

The Moles Tradition

Moles Family Funeral Homes & Crematory has been Whatcom County's leading memorial services provider for over 100 years. Four generations of family ownership means that our tradition of caring has extended to multiple generations of Whatcom County families.

My great-grandfather, John H. Moles, began our family's involvement in funeral service in Whatcom County with Moles - Ferndale. In the 1970s, my grandfather, Robert L. Moles, purchased what are now Moles - Bellingham and Moles - Greenacres. As we've grown to serve more of Whatcom County, including the Lynden area, we have remained a family-owned business.

My family and our staff are long-time local residents with deep roots in the community. For more than a century, we have been honored that local families turn to us at a most difficult time for the caring, trustworthy and professional service they need.

Our staff understands that this is a sacred trust and fully commits to providing the personal, attentive, and empathetic care that has characterized Moles Family Funeral Homes & Crematory for four generations.

Our "Spirit of Service" anticipates the needs of those in sorrow and exceeds the expectations of those entrusting us with their loved ones.

We pledge to provide the highest standards of ethical and personal service from the finest facilities.

Sincerely,

John W. Moles
